NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

From Lot Numbers to Neighbors

In addition to managing our community's daily needs—from landscaping common areas to snow removal and sidewalk repairs—the volunteer HOA Board wants to focus on building a closer community.

Fairway Pines is home to more than 300 families, yet many of us have not had the chance to meet. To change that, the Board has appointed a Community Coordinator (Susan Aitken). She will publish a newsletter to keep everyone connected and organize a series of casual, hyper-local gatherings called "Donut Drop-Ins." Instead of large scale events, we are bringing these short, one-hour morning mixers directly to your street. Funded entirely by the HOA, these neighborly gatherings are designed to help you easily meet the families living right on your block. We plan to begin in April, so in the spring keep an eye out for a flyer in your door detailing when a Donut Drop-In is coming to your street!

We are also launching our first friendly neighborhood competitions - a Holiday Decoration Contest in December and a Best Landscape Contest in the summer. We hope you will join in as we work to make Fairway Pines a place where neighbors truly know and care for one another!

Issues in the Neighborhood

Although we always prefer to give our neighbors the benefit of the doubt, sometimes issues occur which are detrimental to the quality appearance of our neighborhood. You may check out our convenants, restrictions and by-laws on our website at fairwaypinescanton.com. You may also contact the ordinance officer, Bill Wagner, at wagner@cantonmi.gov. or Canton Township Ordinance Dpt.

Fairway Pines

A shared sidewalk, a manicured lawn,
A friendly wave as the day starts to dawn.
A watchful eye when we travel away,
A helpful hand when the skies turn to gray.
Through borrowed tools and a casual chat,
We build a community right where we're at.
For houses alone only line up a street,
But neighbors are what make our circle complete.

Fairway Pines Map

This map shows the 309 houses in our neighborhood included within our HOA.
